HUMENIK IS GIVEN WORKHOUSE TERM

Postmaster At Slovan, Convicted Last November, Called Into Court For Sentence—Had Already Paid Costs of the Case

IS STILL HELD IN JAIL

Indictment Charged Wantonly Pointing Firearms And Assault With Firearms — Humenik Has Been Postmaster At Slovan For Several Years

Mike Humelik, postmaster at Slovan, near Brownsville, convicted at the November term of court of wantonly pointing firearms, was sentenced yesterday afternoon by Judge Erwin Cummins to serve a term of four months in the Allegheny county workhouse, his term to begin on the date of his actual commitment to that institution.

The action taken yesterday was the sequel to an altercation between Mr. Humelik and Justice of the Peace Henry Tennyson of Slovan, which resulted in the former being tried at the November term of court on an indictment charging wantonly pointing firearms and assault with firearms. Following a trial on the two charges he was convicted of the first and acquitted of the second. He was sentenced, following the conviction, by Judge Cummins to pay the costs, the imprisonment sentence being suspended. Humenik complied with the order of court and paid the costs.

The trouble which led to the indictment grew out of an altercation between Tennyson and Humenik over the latter's conduct of the postoffice. It was alleged that Tennyson attempted to enter the postoffice to get a letter that he had mailed and demanded back and that Humenik drew a gun to prevent him from going back of the partition to the private part of the postoffice.

The men are rival political leaders in the Slovan section and as a result of the trouble over the postoffice the charges were made against Humenik. The jury after long consideration reached an agreement finding him guilty of the less of the two charges. Since then there has been no trouble between the two men until the explosion which wrecked the home of Justice of the Peace Tennyson at Slovan last Friday morning.

Saturday Humelik and his son-in-law, William Serenta, were arrested on suspicion in connection with the explosion and since held in jail, bail being fixed at $15,000.

Humenik has been postmaster at Slovan for a number of years and has been an efficient officer. A number of times he has been especially commended by the postoffice authorities for his activities in connection with securing postal savings deposits and selling postal savings certificates. None of his friends believe that he had any connection with the blowing up of the Tennyson home and officers making the arrest admit that they have nothing on him.

"GO-GET-EM" CLUB TO HOLD BAKE SALE

Mrs. Michael Rosenbloom entertained the members of the "Go-Get-Em" club at her home in Fallowfield avenue Tuesday evening. This club organized during the campaign for the new hospital, and the object of it is to assist in securing the $200,000 pledged during the drive.

Several business matters were discussed and the following officers were elected to serve for a year: President, Mrs. John Ferry; vice president, Mrs. William Foulks; secretary, Mrs. Jobes; treasurer, Mrs. M. Rosenbloom.

In order to meet the first payment due in September, the ladies decided to hold a bake sale on Saturday, August 23, in the West Penn Power Co. room in Fallowfield avenue, at which time all kinds of home made bread, cakes, pies and canned fruits will be on sale and displayed in the window. The public is respectfully invited to call at the West Penn and buy any desired article, thus helping the members in raising the desired sum.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. John Ferry in Lincoln avenue.

Everything Is Ready, 4 O'Clock Is The Time, And All The Base Ball Notables Are Here For Big Game

Everything is ready—the notables are all here—the time of the biggest baseball game ever played in Charleroi and the officials and double umpire system has been put into effect so that any of the old boys will have nerve enough to officiate during the game. Promptly at 4 o'clock this afternoon Mr. Tener, Mr. Phillips, Mr. Quinn and any number of other notables accompanying them are all in a base from the local young fellows. Up to the time of going to press, the umpires have not been announced and the management is having an awful time to pick out two men who will pitch the first ball promptly at 4 o'clock and from that time on it will be one continuous round of baseball.

Markovitz Gives Plea Of Guilty Before Judge

Max Markovitz, of Canonsburg, arrested at McDonald by Chief of Police C. M. Schon on a charge of unlawfully transporting liquor, entered a plea of guilty before Judge Erwin Cummins yesterday afternoon and was sentenced to pay costs, a fine of $500 and to serve six months in the Allegheny county workhouse. If the fine and costs are paid he will be let off with three months in jail. Markovitz when arrested was driving his brother's Dodge car and had on board 10 gallons of moonshine purchased at Oakdale which he was taking back to Canonsburg.

W. H. Bird, steward of the Canonsburg Moose club, pleaded guilty to unlawful possession of liquor and was given costs, fine of $500 and three months to the workhouse. He was arrested following a raid on the club after a customer had got some liquor there and had run into the automobile of District Attorney Howard W. Hughes. This accident led to the raid on the club and the arrest of Bird.

Guiseppe Affumicato of Canonsburg, pleaded guilty to possession and sale of intoxicating liquor and was given costs, fine of $100 and three months to jail.

MERCHANTS TO HOLD OUTING

Olympia Park, McKeesport, will be the Mecca for hosts of people of Belle Vernon and vicinity on Wednesday, August 27, when the stores of the town will be closed and old and young alike will hie themselves to the park and enjoy the day at the annual picnic. The affair is being arranged by the Volunteer Firemen with the endorsement and hearty cooperation of the Merchants' committee, purely as a day's outing for the community, with no thought of money making.

A special train will leave Belle Vernon at nine o'clock, making the stops at Fayette City and Monessen. Returning the train will leave the park at nine o'clock. The fare will be $1 the round trip for adults and 50 cents for children, including street car transportation to and from the park.

A big sports program, consisting of thirty events, is being arranged, and the prizes which have been donated by the merchants, are now on display in the store windows. Ball games will likely be arranged, and the ownership of the $1650 Studebaker Sedan will also be decided upon at the park. There will be dancing afternoon and evening, in charge of a committee of the firemen. The service of two expert coffee makers have been secured, and free coffee will be given to all. All that is necessary to make the day one of the greatest in the history of the town is fair skies, and all the citizens of the town are urged to get their baskets ready and take the family along, as the merchants and firemen will see to it that everyone has a good time.

JOHNSON IS INDICTED FOR SLAYING WOMAN

True Bill Found By Grand Jury In Fatal Shooting Following Baseball Game At Americo Park, At Donora

TRIAL SET FOR SEPTEMBER 4

Johnson, It Is Alleged, Shot Miss Wakefield Following Refusal to Take Automobile Ride With Him—Lingers For Some Time, But Finally Succumbs

The grand jury at Washington yesterday found a true bill against Herman Johnson, colored, for the murder of Miss Lela Wakefield, also colored, following a baseball game at Americo park, Donora.

The shooting was sensational. It is said that Johnson, following the contest, which was played between the Donora Athletics and another team, followed Miss Wakefield, who was about 21 years old. He is alleged to have accosted the girl, and asked Miss Wakefield to get in his machine for a ride. The girl refused, following which Johnson shot her one or more times. It is said that Johnson had been courting the young lady. He was captured, we believe, by a guard in the vicinity of the smallpox camp. His trial is set for Thursday, September 4.

Miss Wakefield lingered for some time after the shooting, but finally succumbed to her injuries.

The grand jury is moving rapidly, and the cases for each day are disposed of on schedule. True bills returned are:

Herman Johnson, homicide of Lela Wakefield.

Elizabeth Yeater, assault with intent to kill.

Daniel Martinelli, carrying concealed weapons.

Joe Butler, H. J. Lewis, Philip Leona, Joe Cecilia, Joe Walancias, violations of the liquor laws.

Charles S. Taylor, keeping a gambling house.

Vincent Halverson, Jim Chenchura, carrying concealed weapons.

George Rocheck, driving automobile while intoxicated.

Miller Moslick, violation of coal mining laws.

John Chony, Anna Pribik, crimes against morality.

William Fiedler, Paul Tournick, Alex Tatalovich, Joseph Moskovitz, Mike Havros, David Sweet, John Powolich, Martin Chinavich, Nick Rabbage, August Scarton, Paul Partezana, John Zani, violations of the liquor laws.

Samuel H. Riddall, making and uttering checks without funds.

John Kovach, driving while drunk and failing to stop and render assistance.

Sam Welch, indecent assault, etc.

Morris Weinrib and Bernard Fischer, conveyance of property with intent to defraud.

James Quinet, fornix, etc.

MINERS PREPARE FOR BUSY SEASON

Pittsburgh, Pa., August 21.—Anticipating a cold winter and gradual idle or working part time, several hundred mines in Western Pennsylvania today began preparing for what coal men here predict will be a busy season.

Coal production suffers a sharp decline every spring but this year it has been the worst in a long time. Coal men blame it on the presidential year which in turn seems to have affected the biggest consumers of coal—steel plants and factories.

But with business men optimistic in their belief that the adoption of the Dawes reparations plan will create new and better foreign markets, mine owners are going ahead with plans for a big production season and spreading the word that mine work will be plentiful.

Coal today is cheap—around $6 a ton delivered—and retail dealers in their efforts to keep their yards and mines busy are conducting an active campaign to induce the domestic consumer to buy now. But as the demand for fuel increases the price is naturally expected to rise, and may go as high as $12, last year's peak.

FATHER'S HOME IS NOT WIRED; SAVES COOLIDGE

Plymouth, Vt., August 21.—A bolt of lightning struck within fifty yards of President Coolidge and his family during a terrific electrical storm which swept Plymouth last night.

Only the fact that the home of the president's father is not wired for either telephone or electric light prevented a fire and possible injury to those in the house.

The bolt struck a telephone pole in the rear of the house of J. J. Wilder, just up the road from the Coolidge house. A sheet of flame sped along the wires, passed the Coolidge house and then flashed in the temporary telegraph office installed in the general store. The telephone repairmen who put the circuit back into commission declared the damage clearly showed that the bolt was a tremendous discharge. Had it struck the Coolidge house it might have destroyed it.

The president and members of his family were not alarmed and were ignorant of the danger. They heard only the crash of the bolt.

SENSATIONAL CASE HANOVER TOWNSHIP

Effie D. Cool, a white woman residing on her farm in Hanover township, whose alleged criminal relations with James G. Hotnit, a Negro were brought to the attention of the district attorney's office about a year ago, has filed an answer to the petition of Howard W. Hughes, district attorney, asking for the appointment of a guardian for the woman. The original petition set forth that she is feeble minded, unable to take care of her property, and is liable to become the victim of designing persons. She owns a farm in Hanover township.

This is denied by Miss Cool in her answer just filed. She avers that this action is brought for the purpose of having her removed from her farm and is part of a well-laid scheme on the part of certain citizens of Hanover township, acting through the district attorney to take away her rights and liberties on account of alleged improper relations with James G. Hotnit.

It is also claimed that the district attorney had no right to file such a petition, that the petition is improperly drawn and defective on the face and should be dismissed by the court.

This matter was brought to the attention of the authorities nearly a year ago by a visit of a mob of masked and hooded men, reported to have been members of the Ku Klux Klan, to the Cool farm in Hanover township. It appears that Hotnit resided there with his wife and several children and ran the farm. Miss Cool was the only white person on the place and Hotnit was charged with improper relations with her.

Hotnit fled before the masked men, but the affair was made public and an investigation by the district attorney followed with the result that both Hotnit and Miss Cool were placed under arrest charged with crimes against morality.

On November 16, 1923, both Miss Cool and Hotnit entered pleas of guilty to the charges, the former being sentenced to pay the costs and a fine of $25, and the latter to pay the costs, a fine of $25 and to six months in the workhouse.

THREE MEN SHOT IN CARD GAME

Pittsburgh, Aug. 21.—Three men were shot, one seriously in a gun fight said to be the result of a card game in Harwick, near Springdale, early today.

The shooting occurred in true western style, it is said. The men were playing cards, when a dispute arose, and they determined to settle the argument with guns and proceeded to open fire on one another. Mike Karlek, 33, was shot in the lungs, and is in a serious condition in the New Kensington hospital. Two other men, not so seriously wounded, were taken to the Springdale jail.

RIVER BEING DRAGGED FOR BODY OF SECOND HOLLOW MAN

Clarence Scott, aged 50 years, a riverman, who for the past 25 years has been employed on the Monongahela river, was drowned shortly before noon today when he was seized with cramps while bathing in the river near Second Hollow. Scott, who came to North Charleroi from Middlepoint, Ohio, was well-known among the rivermen.

Yesterday afternoon he worked on the Government boat Collier, and after leaving the boat, it is alleged he partook freely of liquor and it is said, it was while under the influence of drink that he entered the water.

A number of small shacks have been erected near the scene of the tragedy, which are occupied by men who work on the river. A number of the men living in these shacks were at work, and those who saw the unfortunate man go under, were unable to save him.

An alarm was sent to the Government yards for help and were rushed to the scene, but were unable to locate the body, which has not been recovered.

STATE FAIR AT WHEELING OPENS ON LABOR DAY

Wheeling, W. Va., August 19.—The West Virginia State Fair, Wheeling, which will be held September 1 to 6, opening as always on Labor day, will have the best and costliest racing program in its history, and this fair is noted for its horse racing. Nearly $10,000 is hung up for speed purses for trotters, pacers, and runners, a mark no other fair will exceed.

Heading the harness card, of course, will be the two races against time on "Veterans Day," Tuesday, September 2. The world's greatest reinsman, Edw. ("Pop") Geers, will drive Peter Manning, 1:56 3-4, world champion trotter, to break the world's trotting record for double ovals, and Sanardo, 1:59 1-2, world champion pacing gelding, to shatter the world's pacing record, for the twice arounds. Both races will be paced by runners, and Wheeling is reputed to have one of the best and speediest half-mile tracks in the country, it is believed that one or both world records will be lowered here.

Thirteen additional trots and paces complete the harness card, to be raced the four days of September 2 to 5.

Wheeling will be more elaborate than in the past, with purses of $500, $600 and $700. Labor day, September 1, will be "Derby Day," with eight thoroughbred events. September 2, 3, 4, and 5, there will be nine runs daily, and in event of rain on any of these days preventing the harness races from going, seven running events will be raced. Saturday, September 6, will be another "Derby day," with seven thoroughbred events.

PIRATES LOSE NERVE; THEY ARE AGAIN BEATEN BY BROOKLYN

The oft-occurring dangerous relaxation scored heavily in piling up the popular Pirates yesterday. The bases were void of Dodgers and the Oaklanders had only to retire one batter when the Pittsburgh boys allowed ture sensations of victory. While the apparent mood was on one Dodger walked in a hurry, another tripled in a bigger hurry and the game was all tied up with disappointed spectators caught in the exits. The fans flagged themselves back and were pained onlookers as the Robins made a clean sweep of the three game series in the eleventh. Score, 3 to 2.

Our flag dreams, therefore, have been rudely annoyed by the same club which has been a nightmare to Forbes Field patrons all year. An ironical atmosphere laughed back in the faces of the fans as they left the park as they realized that it was a Pittsburger who played a leading role in the crepe-hanging playlet. The culprit was and is Knoxville Bill Doak. Bill's success over his fellow-townspeople lengthened the gap between the Pirates and Giants to four and one-half games. The Giants and Reds were idle because of rain.

VETERAN LIVES AT GRANT'S FIRST CAMP

Sole Survivor of General's Original Command.

Springfield, Ill.—Eight miles west of Springfield, on the public highway to Jacksonville, Israel F. Pearce, patriarch, veteran of Grant's army and participant in Sherman's march to the sea, lives in solitude on the land where General Grant pitched camp on his first day's march into the Civil war.

Pearce, the only man now living out of the entire regiment which went into encampment on this spot of ground the night of July 3, 1861, maintains a guard over the camp ground and over "General Grant's tree," a large, peculiarly shaped black walnut tree under which Grant wrote his orders.

Raises His Flag Daily.

Every morning at sunrise the tattered old flag belonging to Pearce is raised from a 30-foot flagpole near his house, and every evening at sundown the flag is lowered.

Pearce acts as a guardian for this historic spot and is glad to relate its history to passing tourists, although the historical connection is known to few people, and no marks, save the veteran's flag, are to be seen on the land.

"General Grant's tree," some three feet in diameter, stands near the house. Here, Pearce tells tourists, he saw Grant, sitting astride a peculiar limb growth, near the ground, writing out the first day's orders. Grant's tent was pitched a few feet from the tree, and he once addressed the regiment from a spot near where the tall flagpole now stands.

"The first day's march of the regiment, the Twenty-first Illinois infantry, was started from Camp Yates, in this city, about 11 a. m., and the first camp site was reached about 5 p. m.," Pearce relates.

"The regiment was halted in columns of companies in the woods, arms were stacked and when wagon trains came into camp each company unloaded its wagon, arranged the tents by opening and spreading them on the ground, and at one sound of the drum the tents were raised; at two sounds ropes were stretched, and at the third sound, the stakes were driven and the regiment was under canvas in its first tented field.

Many Stragglers in March.

"The first day's march was attended with hardships, and there were stragglers and absentees. The punishment given was extra guard duty both for officers and men. The men made camp fires and cooked their first meal in camp at this time.

"During the first evening, officers' call was sounded and Grant, then Colonel Grant, talked to the men, emphasizing the absolute necessity of enforcing respect for the inhabitants of the country through which the regiment was passing. The captains of the companies were made personally responsible for the acts of the men."

Pearce was quartered both at Fort Henry and Fort Donelson, and on July 4, 1863, marched into Vicksburg with Grant and his army; just two years after the regiment left its first camp near the walnut tree. From Vicksburg, Pearce went with Sherman on his march to the sea, through the Carolinas and on to Washington. He participated in the grand review up Pennsylvania avenue at the close of the war.

Fox Hunter Puzzled Over Scent Mystery

No one should write of hunting without alluding to the important question of scent. To ignore the subject is gravely unconventional, if not worse. That at least is the excuse which Miss E. E. Somerville offers for quoting this incomprehensible incident in her memories of Irish life:

We were hunting in the hills. It was a bright and sunny day with a light and vanishing touch of frost. The hounds were drawing along the southern side of a high hill covered with short rough grass and heather, with furze brakes here and there among the rocks. We had not "found," but the hounds were busy "feathering" and were obviously sure that a fox had been about. Then one of the field rode up to me and said with the icy calm that so often masks the fullness of pride:

"There'e your fox, master!" He pointed with his whip to something that looked like a rusty can lying under a furze bush.

A fox! Not as I first feared dead, but very much alive, I cracked my whip at him, and he slid away over the hill, crossing after half a dozen yards or so a wide blackened patch where furze had been burnt. In an instant we brought the hounds to the place where he had lain. They made no outcry. They were interested, but by more than that. We took them on and crossed the burnt patch, and suddenly on its farther verge they all put their heads down and went away with a shout, and we had a brilliant forty minutes, till the fox beat us on the edge of the sea and got safe into a slit in the cliffs.

Why should the bed of the fox have been less odorous than his light feet, and why did the hounds not acknowledge him until he had crossed the burnt bit of hill? These things are a mystery.—Youth's Companion.

Dog's Good Character Saves Owner $5,000

Oregon, Ill.—Many prominent citizens of Ogle county appeared in court here the other day as character witnesses for Bowser, a dog, now deceased, and their testimony saved Charles Vogeler, owner of the dog, $5,000.

Vogeler had been sued by Katherine Clinton, who alleged the dog was responsible for an automobile accident in which the complainant and her sister suffered serious injuries and Bowser was killed. The women said he dashed out at their car and his body became entangled in the front wheels and caused the car to turn over.

The character witnesses testified that Bowser had a good reputation for peaceful and quiet habits and had never been known to run after a car. The jury returned a verdict for the defendant.

Children's Dog Is Located by Radio

New York.—Lillian Leary, eight, and her brother, John, nine, are happy again because Buster, the curly-haired French poodle, is home with them again. A few days ago they tramped four miles looking for him, then induced the Jamaica police to send an alarm by radio. Thomas Daniel, ten, telephoned the children's mother he had the dog.

Lillian, with her penny bank containing $5.20, and John, with two bars of chocolate, accompanied their mother to the Daniel home. Lillian thrust her bank into the finder's hand, and John handed him the chocolate.

Airplane photo, showing view of "Woodside," from the entrance. At the extreme left is the swimming pool; at the right, the tennis courts. The Prince of Wales has accepted the offer of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burden, whose country home it is, and will, with his entourage, occupy the beautiful Colonial mansion and its surrounding estate of 140 beautiful, rolling, wooded acres, during his stay on Long Island next month. His Royal Highness is expected to arrive August 31, incog as Baron Renfrew, to watch the International Polo at the Meadow Brook Club. "Woodside" is situated between Glen Head and Syosset, L. OLD ALASKA CUTTER IS JAMMED IN ICE

Exiles in North Will Wait in Vain for Yearly Visit.

Washington.—The venerable coast guard cutter, the Bear, has made its last journey to the Arctic. It is pinched in the ice somewhere 1,000 miles north of Unalaska, two propellers are broken, it has a score of dents in its side and headquarters has radioed order to give up, to return home from the fiftieth annual cruise into the Far North.

So "Healy's puk oomiak" will not take the mail and the messages from civilization to Point Barrow this year. The old vessel, named Healy's Fire Canoe by the natives when Captain Healy used to guide it into the northern waters, no more will brighten the lives of those lost from the world for a year at a time. It has been branded unsafe, unseaworthy, and when it gets back to the States, if it does, its last voyage will be ended. It will be dismantled.

It was on May 2 that the Bear, in command of Captain Cochran, steamed away from the Golden Gate. Its skipper bore the usual broad instructions "To aid all peoples, to assist commerce, to open lines of communication," and last, but one of its most important duties, "to carry the mail to every village not reached by the Bering sea patrol." The farthest north of these is Point Barrow.

Half a dozen times in June the Bear was caught in the ice. Men acquainted with the north, brawny and willing, freed it and it sought another means of egress, but July 5 found it facing "heaviest ice" and a day later it was held fast again.

Although Captain Cochran's last message indicated his belief that he would have little difficulty in returning as soon as ice conditions permit, Rear Admiral Billard, the commandant, and others at coast guard headquarters fear that the old boat may not emerge safely.

Congress was asked at its last session to appropriate money for a new craft to replace the Bear, but the bill got lost in the jam. Its sister ships, the Thetis and the Resolute, long ago were dismantled, but not until each had served for years.

Found $52,000 and Still Is Waiting for Reward

International

There are honest folks in this world. Here's one. Charles Brown of Salem, Mass., recently found a bag containing $52,000 in cash and bonds. He turned it over to a mysterious Doctor McKnight who promised to give Brown a house and lot. Brown has not seen McKnight since, nor has he received his house and lot. However, he is living in hopes.

Musical Tone Opens Lock

A newly invented lock for safes has just been exhibited at Birmingham, England, the peculiarity of which is that, instead of opening to a numerical combination, it does so to a musical tone. In other words, if the cracksman who attempts to open a safe door sings a G sharp when the lock has been attuned to G flat he will be thwarted. Safeblowers of the future, instead of carrying a kit of jimmies and "nitro," will have to have a set of tuning forks.—Musical America.

"Killjoys" of Various Kinds, but All Pests

Are you a "killjoy"? Your negative is indignant and emphatic. Good! But wait a minute.

The activities of the ordinary killjoy we know. The fraternity is out to spoil in the mass all innocent fun and gayety. But there are other killjoys. These are not organized; they don't seek to spoil the fun of crowds. Their line is to take the joy out of individuals, one at a time. And yet they do it without malice or deliberate intent. But the effect is exactly the same.

Some parents are killjoys, observes London Answers. They are too particular with their children, too careful, too much concerned. A childish game in which angels might join is brought to a sudden halt. "Bobby, you mustn't do that!" "Elsie, little girls should not roar about as though they were boys. Sit down quietly at once."

The joy is killed.

Uncle gives Tommy a shilling, and Tommy, with great joy, pictures what he will buy. But a killjoy parent insists that the money should be put in the savings box.

Little Mona, with great joy, lays the table for tea. Mother will be so surprised! But mother has a rebuke. "Never do that again, Mona! If you had broken a cup I should have been very upset!"

Today, without knowing or meaning it, you may have acted as such a killjoy. Have you snubbed anyone? Have you turned against the enthusiasm of one of the young and joyous your older, perhaps cynical, wisdom? Have you laughed in superior fashion at some eager idea?

Then you are a killjoy. Anything which darkens the sun of youth or causes shining, eager eyes to cloud or ends innocent happiness, kills joy, and those who do the darkening, the clouding, or the like, are killers.

Sister of African King Longs for Fine Clothing

Evidence that the sister of a king, even though she be in "darkest" Africa, sometimes hankers for finery, is found in a letter written by the reigning monarch to the agent of a trading post at Hlabatin, says a dispatch from Olympia, Wash.

Several of the royal communications were received by Archibald C. Tweedie of the state department of labor and industries from his brother, George Tweedie, who is stationed at the trading post. One of the letters is as follows:

Mr. B. C. Dorkin, Hlabatin:

Please allow my sister, Mlwa, to have £2 ladies' dresses dont give her more with kindest regards, Yours faithfully, I Mswaker Sigean, King of Pondoland.

The letter is written in English in a plain and legible hand. The trading post at Hlabatin is about 150 miles inland and Tweedie and Dorkin are said to be the only white men in a radius of 100 miles.

Problem!

Sunday afternoon—and the Bible class was over. The teacher was standing by the door saying good-by to all the bright little darlings who had listened so attentively to her discourse.

"Good-by, Susie!" she said, with a sweet smile to one small child.

"Good-by, teacher," came the shrill reply, and then she added with pride: "It's my birthday tomorrow!"

"Why," returned the teacher, "it's mine, too!"

The little girl's face was clouded with perplexity as she answered: "How did you get so much bigger'n me?"

Origin of Pep

According to H. L. Mencken, author of "The American Language," the word "pep," meaning vim, punch, snap, ginger, vigor, is a shortened form of "pepper." But it does not appear that "pepper" was ever used extensively in the modern popular sense of "pep." The fact probably is that "pep" was a new coinage merely suggested by "pepper," but not necessarily agreeing with it in meaning.

Sincerity

Remember this little rule for success: Let your every act start from a sincere interest in the thing to be done, never from the mere desire to impress others with your personality. Sincere motives are the firm foundations upon which actual accomplishments are built. Conceited motives are the shifting sands upon which failure is built.

MARY CARR AT THE MAJESTIC

The fifth big Emory Johnson production, entitled "The Spirit of the U. S. A." which will be shown at the Majestic tomorrow and Saturday, marks the uniting on the screens of the artistry of two thespians whose work is known to tens of thousands of film fans throughout the length and breadth of picturedom—Mary Carr and Johnnie Walker.

Not since "Over the Hill" made its appearance several years ago have these two played together, and to see them in the same picture once more will be a true treat to their many admirers. Naturally Mary Carr and Johnnie Walker are again joined as mother and son, with the former in an appealing role as a Gold Star Mother whose eldest boy is killed in France and whose younger son returns as a heroic figure to his country in time to save his parents from ignominy and disgrace.

The story is by Emory Johnson's mother, Emilie, as was the case in his four previous box office triumphs.

MAXWELL
Initiates a New Order
Says Walter P. Chrysler

The public in general probably has no adequate realization of the great advances which have recently been made in motor car engineering.

It is a fact that the good Maxwell, together with the Chrysler Six, has literally accomplished a revolution in motor car results.

If you have not familiarized yourself with the good Maxwell since Chrysler engineers began their work with it, you cannot begin to appreciate what it means to thorough satisfaction and economical, care-free motoring.

Its engineering design and its fine materials are directly responsible for the statements of owners that the good Maxwell now costs less to maintain than any car they have ever known.

When you ride in the good Maxwell, be prepared for a quietness and a smoothness that you probably never expected from a four-cylinder engine.

One reason why you don't feel any trace of vibration when you ride behind the Maxwell motor, is the fact that the reciprocating parts of the engine are balanced to the fraction of an ounce.

Another reason is a floating platform spring mounting under the front end of the motor—a wonderfully effective device which is exclusive to Maxwell.

Owners will tell you that gasoline economy generally averages 24 miles to the gallon.

With this economy is coupled performance that would be gratifying in a car of far greater cost and power.

You accelerate from 5 to 25 miles an hour in eight seconds, when you drive a good Maxwell.

Its engine, with displacement only a fraction over 185 cubic inches, develops power that will take you anywhere a car can go—and some places where some cars cannot go.

The car is a revelation in ease of steering. Its ease of riding is equally remarkable.

The spring suspension is one reason for this. The noticeable absence of motor vibration is another.

If you really want to know how far four-cylinder engineering practice has advanced—take a ride in the good Maxwell. Nothing else can give you a full realization of the new order of things which the good Maxwell has initiated.

DIAMOND HEROES.

Today the populace is witnessing at the Charleroi Baseball park diamond heroes of bygone days. Their stars as athletic luminaries have long since set; but their memories and achievements live and will live and be perpetuated in the days and years to come. It is fitting and proper, therefore, this attestation—this demonstration in their honor.

Athletics in the old days, as now, were of interest to the fans and the populace, who discussed the merits of the players fully as much as they do those of today. Time was when the name of Adrian C. Anson and the Hon. John K. Tener, Hans Wagner, and their achievements on the baseball field were as much the theme of talk as are the achievements of Babe Ruth, Tyrus Cobb and Rogers Hornsby of today. The only difference between the erstwhile baseball days and now, is there were not so many stars, and the game had not advanced to its present financial standard.

The majority of the ball players of the olden days have made a success of life after their career on the diamond came to a close. Some of them became rich in this world's goods, while others attained honors, as in the case of former governor Tener. In whatever sphere they are now engaged, those who are living, they have, for the most part, made names for themselves in honorable careers—have won for themselves places in high esteem among their fellow-men. It is our belief that athletics are responsible in large measure for this state of affairs. They learned through the discipline and cleanliness of baseball lessons which have stood them in good stead in fields of endeavor today. Athletics promoted good health and sturdy bodies are an incentive to and sturdy bodies are an inventive to clean minds and vigorous action in the arena of life. Congratulations are due them, today, these diamond heroes of days of yore. They helped to place baseball on the high pedestal of popularity which the game now enjoys—truly the national game.

Phone Permits Several to Listen or Talk at Same Time

To save time in large offices and eliminate the necessity for making repeated calls on the telephone, a small switch-

With it, the speaker can communicate with a number of offices and receive replies at the same time. It is designed especially for executives and managers.

Figuring Water Required on a Farm

A certain quantity of water is required as the daily output of every water-supply system, whether it is pumped by wind or other power and a storage tank must be provided for holding the water until it is used, and for caring for the surplus. If a windmill is used to pump the water a tank large enough to hold a three-day supply of water should be provided in order to furnish water over a period when there is little or no wind. If engine-driven pumps are used the tanks need only be large enough to hold a single day's supply, as the engine can be operated at any time regardless of weather conditions.

The amount of water required for all purposes from isolated water-supply plants, is, on the average, as follows: For all household and toilet purposes allow 25 gal. for each member of the family; allow 10 gal. for each horse, 10 gal. for each cow, 2 gal. for each hog, and 1 gal. for each sheep. Applying the rule, the minimum allowance for a family of five persons for household purposes only will be 125 gallons. In order that ample pressure will be obtained at all cocks the storage tank should be elevated at least 10 ft. higher than the highest tap and the higher the tank the greater will be the pressure.

Easy to Start an Avalanche

Avalanches have sometimes been started by trivial causes. The tinkle of sleigh bells or even a whisper, has been known to set them off in the Alps, and many lives have been lost by a climber shouting to his companions. Several years ago, a caravan of sleighs was overwhelmed by a sliding mass of snow and ice, supposedly started by the sound from the bells. Thick stone barriers have been erected high on the mountain slopes to protect travelers.

Tractor Guided Like Wheelbarrow Takes Place of Switch Engine

Run by storage batteries, a small electric truck for switching cars and towing lighters on canals has proved successful in Germany. It is guided somewhat like a wheelbarrow with two long handles between which are the starting and control levers. The tractor has power sufficient to pull or push seven small freight cars.

Detachable Running-Board Ice Box

A detachable running-board ice box of the kind shown in the illustration has been found to be of great value on camping trips. It is made of heavy galvanized iron, has a compartment for the ice, upon which fruit and soft-drink bottles can be piled, and another compartment for bread, cakes and food that must be kept dry. Two hinged covers are fitted to the top, as indicated, and a slat grating is provided in the bottom to allow easy drainage. The whole arrangement is fastened to the running board by means of four bolts passing through two angle-iron brackets, which are riveted to the ends of the box, and through holes drilled through the running board and bushed with ferrules. The ferrules are turned up out of brass stock and are threaded with a fine-pitch thread so as to permit screwing them into the wood; these have a nicer appearance when the box is detached than plain drilled holes. A drain hole is drilled through the bottom of the ice compartment and through the running board. A ⅝-in. nut is soldered in this hole and a screw plug fitted in, a rubber washer being provided under the head.

WOMEN OPEN PLACE TO HOLD CAMPAIGN

Republican women citizens of the Eastern states now have their own headquarters for the presidential campaign. They opened them this morning at 2 West 46th Street, New York, and immediately extended an invitation to every Republican woman in the east to become workers in the campaign.

Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, national committeewoman from New York, who is a member of the executive committee of the Republican National Committee, opened the headquarters at nine o'clock yesterday morning. Associated with her in the campaign will be Mrs. Barclay Warburton of Pennsylvania and Mrs. George Orvis of Vermont, members of the Republican National Committee.

Although the eastern headquarters did not open until yesterday, the women have been at work ever since the Republican convention in Cleveland perfecting their plans and as a result they have the most complete organization which the women of any political party have ever had. The women are to have their own Coolidge-Dawes clubs, and Miss Maude Wetmore of Rhode Island, is in charge.

The women's speakers bureau in the East will be under the direction of Miss Helen Varick Boswell of New York. Mrs. Courtlandt Nicoll will head the women's contributor's committee. Mrs. Charlotte Farrar, woman leader of the 10th assembly district, Manhattan, is the assistant secretary of the National committee.

"We are going to get the women to the polls" said Mrs. Sabin. "The women are pledging themselves not only to vote but to see to it that every member of their family votes.

"In every county in all of the eastern states, women are actively at work. The Republican platform with its recommendation for the speedy consideration of the child labor amendment, its pledges of law enforcement has won them. There is no doubt," said Mrs. Sabin, "that a large part of their fine inspiration comes from a sincere admiration of the personalities of our candidates.

"Our cause is growing in popularity every day, according to reports from all eastern states and upstate counties. In Philadelphia, New York and other large cities in the east the women are also pledging all of their efforts to the winning of this campaign."

American Indian May Have Come From Egypt

It is probable, if not certain, that the American Indian did not come from Egypt but that in centuries following the glacial era, or even later, tribes started to migrate. It is also very possible that at that particular time Asia and America were not separated by a body of water in the northern part—that is, between Kamchatka and Alaska by the Behring sea. Then why would it be improbable that a few tribes started on their migration in a northeast direction as later migrations started in a northwest direction?

Furthermore, one of the oldest symbols of the world can be found from Siberia to Ceylon and from Alaska to the Tierra del Fuego, if not in its entirety, always in a recognizable form. I am speaking of the swastika and we know that the swastika is Asian in its origin, says Dr. P. Anther in Adventure Magazine.

The features of the Indians are not Mongolian but Asian. There is no doubt there and in the eyes of some you find the same characteristics and also the cheekbones in both are prominent, but not like the Mongolian race.

Learn From Lazy Man

Managers of a department store were asked to pick out their best salesman, writes Fred Kelly in the Nation's Business, that others might study his methods. They looked up their records and picked a man, but an investigation of his methods quickly showed that he was only a mediocre salesman. True, he had sold more than anybody else in his department, but this was because he had the heavy expense of a sick wife and consequently unusual incentive to work hard for more commissions. While he sold a lot of goods, he did it with wasteful expenditure of his energies. Several other salesmen sold almost as much as he did with only about half the effort. As Frank Gilbreth says, "The ideal man to learn methods from is one so lazy that he works barely hard enough to avoid being fired."

Glasgow, Kentucky. — "I was run-down, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live, and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dressmaker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much."—Mrs. MAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Ky.

STATE HEADS ORDER MINERS TO BE VACCINATED

Lansford, Aug. 21.—Because of the appearance of a case of smallpox in the Panther Creek valley, the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company has been notified by the State health department that all of its employes at Nesquehoning, Hauto, Lansdale, Coaldale, and Tamaqua, must be vaccinated.

Local authorities are wondering just how it is to be done as a majority of the miners are of foreign birth and have always fought compulsory vaccination and other medical measures. About six or eight thousand men will be subject to the order, not counting their families, also included.

In Society's Realm

Friday evening, August 22, there will be a festival at the Fallowfield Grange hall at Oakland park. There will be the usual good time and a large crowd is being prepared for.

The Dunlevy United Brethren church yesterday afternoon held its annual Sunday school and parish picnic at Oakland park, with approximately 150 parishioners and friends present. A special car left Charleroi at 12:30 bearing the happy picnicers, and the balance of the day was spent at the popular outing grounds. There was a large program of sports carried out and prizes were given the winners in the various contests. The picnic lunches played an important part in the day's program and were very much enjoyed. At 7 o'clock the picnickers left the park for their homes.

A reunion of interest took place [illegible] Mrs. Charles Bradley of Connellsville—a reunion of nine brothers and sisters of the Robinson family, their first meeting altogether in twenty-seven years. Mrs. C. W. Core of Fifth street, a sister, together with her husband and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Blewe of this place were present.

In addition to the reunion the birthday anniversary of the oldest son, Edward Robertson was celebrated as well as a reception tendered to the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Blewe of this place, who were married in Uniontown Saturday. The bride before her marriage was Miss Gladys Stewart of Fifth street. The sisters and brothers who were present were as follows: Mrs. C. W. Core of Charleroi; Edward Robertson of Wheeling, W. Va., Mrs. Morris Henry of Greensburg; John Robertson of Austin, W. Va., Mrs. Minnie Mann of Elco; Oliver Robertson of Dara, Pa., Mrs. John Cook of Kinkwood and Mrs. Beatrice Haun of Fairmont and Mrs. Charles Bradley.

The assassins laid in wait for the attache as he neared his home and fired upon him. They missed all three times.

Belgrade is aroused over the incident and the government has notified the ambassador at Sophia to take immediate steps to prevent further attack.

Plymouth, Vt., August 21.—Harry W. Dourm, Canton, Ohio, drew a picture of a man in farm attire on an envelope. The figure was standing on an outline of the state of Vermont and held a hay rake. He stamped it and mailed it. The Canton postoffice wrote "try Plymouth, Vt.," on the envelope, and the letter, congratulating President Coolidge on his acceptance speech, was delivered at its proper destination.

Bobbed Hair Game Sportier Than 'Beaver'

Paris.—It is now almost impossible to discover women with long hair in Paris, and a new game has been invented which is more successful than "beaver" was some time ago.

Each time a woman who has long hair is spotted in the street by one of the players ten points is awarded, but the game becomes somewhat boring, for there are far fewer unbobbed women than bearded men.

Colored wigs are again popular, and the other evening at a fashionable "soupee dansant" in the Champs Elysees no fewer than 38 wigs were seen in the assembly.

Hotnit was released in May, and it is alleged that he returned immediately to the Cool farm, where Miss Cool was living. The matter came to the attention of the authorities a short time later when a warrant for Hotnit was erceived from Ohio, charging him with the desertion and non-support of his wife and children, who had gone there after his arrest. He was found by the sheriff at the Cool home and again placed under arrest. This petition, filed by the district attorney and asking for the appointment of a guardian for Miss Cool, followed.

Error in Route Leads to Founding of City

Seattle, Wash.—The founding of Fairbanks, Alaska, in 1902, was due to a mistake in taking a water route by Capt. John Barnette.

Captain Barnette sailed up the Yukon river. Furnished with some of the inaccurate maps of the period, he mistook the Chena slough for the Tanana river and sailed to the present site of Fairbanks before discovering his error. He was forced to discharge the greater part of his cargo of trade goods to lighten the boat in maneuvering it back to the main stream. When he discovered the possibilities of the place, he built a log store.

The Century Plant

The belief that the century plant blooms every 100 years is a myth, according to Pathfinder Magazine. The flowering of this interesting plant depends upon the climate and rapidity of growth. In warm climates such as Mexico and Central America, the original home of the century plants, they grow rapidly and usually bloom about the seventh of eighth year, seldom later than the twelfth. In colder climates the period before bloom is much longer. Some authorities say that in hot houses 80 to 100 years may elapse before the plant flowers, a fact which probably gave rise to the century myth from which the plant gets its popular name. After flowering the century plant dies down to the ground. However, new plants arise from lateral buds.

INDIAN MAIDENS NOW ELIGIBLE TO MARRY

Oil Men Are After Them to Get Leases to Land.

Waurika, Okla.—Several hundred Indian maidens of the Chickasaw and Choctaw tribes in Oklahoma, who were babes eighteen years ago when allotments were made in these nations, reached their majority, by virtue of an act of congress, on March 4, 1924. Generally the fact had been overlooked in this territory, but an oil man revealed his recollection of it when he began searching for some of these maidens that he might obtain oil leases to their lands.

The number of such maidens appears not to be known outside the agency office at Muskogee. Nor is the residence of many of them generally known. Some are fullbloods and live among their kind in the recesses of Pushmataha and McCurtain counties. A few live with parents or guardians, on or near, their allotments.

But wherever they are, they are now competent to get married and make disposition of their lands, some of them subject, of course, to provisions of laws governing fullbloods and mixed bloods. The lands of many are in Jefferson, Carter and Stephens counties, where oil fields exist and wildcatters are seeking to identify new fields. Some of them have been rich from oil incomes for several years.

The making of a common birthday for several hundred Indian children was one of the many curious provisions of law governing these Indians. They were [illegible] made, but lands were set aside for them. Congress said the female babes should have their eighteenth birthday on March 4, 1924, and male babes their common majority birthday on March 4, 1927.

An illustration of the forgetfullness of fortune-seeking and adventurous young men of the country is revealed by the fact that the number of June weddings in the Indian country was only normal for the season.
